ABOUT US:

The Austin Wildcat Basketball Organization was started in the Spring of 1999 by a handful of parents to give our kids and the children of Austin an alternative to select basketball, but still ensuring that all participants have the skills to play basketball competitively in Middle and High School. Austin Wildcats is a preparatory program with emphasis on player development. The program includes kids from a wide range of public and private schools in the greater Austin and surrounding area.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS:

Q: Are there tryouts for the “No-Dribble” League? A: Yes, the scheduled Training Camps will serve as tryouts for our Spring/Summer Select teams. Unlike Select teams, teams for the league will be formed by the coaching staff as even as possible and with school friendships in mind.

Q: Why a “No-Dribble” League? A: This was a bold experiment in 2011 that was nothing short of a huge success. The Developmental or “No-Dribble” League is designed to teach players how to play basketball without the ball and without the need to dribble first. Players must advance the ball with teamwork, passing and most importantly moving without the basketball.

Q: When are practices and games held? A: All practices and games will be on Sunday afternoon. A practice clinic will be held one hour prior to the scheduled game time. Fundamental Clinics (practices) will be run by the top coaches from the Wildcats programs.

Q: What if my son is playing in another league? A: Our Preparatory League and Practice Clinics are held on Sunday afternoons to allow participation of kids who are playing in other neighborhood leagues.

Q: Who are the coaches that will be working with my child? A: The Wildcats program has a coaching staff made up of Volunteers, Professional Teachers and Coaches, and Student Interns from the University of Texas.

Q: Can we pay for the League program monthly? A: No, monthly or recurring fees are only available for our Academy programs. All fees for the Developmental League are due when your son or daughter attends tryouts.
